The house is currently under construction, with planned completion in October 2026.

The house is designed as a raised ground-floor property with a roof terrace and offers a total of 130 m² of functionally organized living space. The basement level contains the sleeping area with direct access to a spacious terrace. One bedroom serves as a master bedroom with a private walk-in wardrobe, while the remaining two bedrooms are connected to an additional bathroom and storage room.

The ground floor features an open-plan living area combining the kitchen, dining area, and living room, along with an entrance hall and guest toilet. Large glass walls provide plenty of natural light and direct access to the garden. An internal staircase leads to a roof terrace of approximately 60 m², ideal for creating a private lounge area with sea views.

The landscaped yard includes a planned 25 m² swimming pool with sunbathing area and jacuzzi, while an external staircase connects the outdoor space with the basement level. The house will be equipped with a thermal facade, flat roof, PVC joinery, air conditioning units, and electric underfloor heating, ensuring a high level of comfort throughout the year. Two parking spaces belong to the property.
