The terrain is oriented south/north and is very sunny and open. It has a regular shape and is ideal for building a holiday home. The electricity infrastructure is directly to the field.

The Curak River is only a few steps away from the terrain, and the murmur of water can be heard constantly on the terrain itself.

The street where the terrain is located is quiet and not too busy, so peace and quiet are guaranteed.

A property worthy of attention for those who want proximity to the river and being surrounded by natural beauty.
